

A watercolor illustration of a landscape. On the left, a large, dark green tree with a thick trunk and dense foliage stands on a dark, rocky outcrop. To the right, a smaller, more delicate tree with a thinner trunk and lighter green foliage stands on a similar outcrop. The background is a soft, hazy landscape with rolling hills in shades of yellow and green. A bright, glowing sun or moon is visible in the center, casting a warm light across the scene. The overall style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes and a gentle color palette.

The background is a dark, atmospheric painting. In the upper left, a dark, gnarled tree branch hangs down, its leaves sparse and dark. The background is a mix of dark blues, purples, and greens, with a bright, hazy light source on the right side, creating a glow that fades into the darkness. The overall mood is mysterious and somber.

I cannot control myself

A celestial map of the Northern Hemisphere, centered on the North Star (Polaris) in the upper left. The Milky Way galaxy is depicted as a broad, luminous band of white and yellow stars, arching from the upper left towards the lower right. Darker, irregular shapes represent interstellar dust lanes. Numerous constellations are outlined with thin white lines, and many individual stars are marked with small white dots of varying sizes. The background is a deep, dark blue-black.
